Stewardship Campaign

"Church – The First Social Network"

During the first three Sundays of November, we will be looking at 2 Corinthians. This was a letter written to a first century church where the people were learning to live together in Christian community.

Whenever two or more are gathered together in Jesus' name, we will be challenged to...

Reconcile (forgive)

- 2 Corinthians 5:11-21

Develop the life-line of Christian friendships

- 2 Corinthians 6:14-7:1

Give in a way that blesses the community of faith

- 2 Corinthians 9:6-15

On Sunday, November 19, we will have the opportunity to make our financial commitments for 2018.

From the Pastor

'In everything give thanks: for this is the will of God in Christ Jesus concerning you.' (1 Thessalonians 5:18)

During my college days, I was walking across campus when I spotted a female student I did not know, who was clearly distraught. Her frantic face and actions told me something was terribly wrong. As I approached her across the campus lawn, she cried out to me, "I lost my engagement ring; it just slipped off my finger." I joined her in the frantic search, pacing back and forth, looking for flashing gold or a shining diamond. After a few minutes of search, my eyes fell upon the missing ring bedded neatly in the grass and reached to retrieve it. Turning to her with the ring pinched between my thumb and forefinger, I declared, "I found it!" She came running in my direction. As her eyes fell upon her lost and found ring, the look of frantic fear turned to ecstatic relief and joy. What followed was an impromptu bear hug of a complete stranger born out of gratitude and joy.

A news service organization shared the story of a Canadian woman, Mary Grams, 84, who lost her engagement ring 13 years ago while weeding her garden on the family farm. It, too, was found after her daughter-in-law discovered the ring while harvesting carrots. While pulling the carrots, she noticed one of them looked strange. She almost fed it to her dog but decided to keep it and just threw it in her pail. When she was washing the carrots, she noticed the carrot had grown through the ring. Grams said she was eager to try the ring on again after so many years. With family looking, on she washed the ring with a little soap to get the dirt off. It slid on her finger as easily as it did when her husband gave it to her. She is wearing it proudly again. (Taken from Illustration Exchange)

It is easy to be thankful when we are blessed with good results. Gratitude is easy when the lost is found, the diagnosis is good, the weather is nice and we're feeling good. Thankfulness slips off our tongue when we look around the world and realize how fortunate we are to live in America, that we have plenty to eat and we're enriched with wonderful relationships. But the instruction to the Christians in Thessalonica was to give thanks for everything. This is a mystery!

One day, my wife Nancy took our children to the county fair. During the day, as she trampled through sawdust floored livestock barns and rows of countless exhibits; as she rode with our small children on carnival rides, somewhere, who knows where, her diamond came loose from the setting and was lost. There was no happy ending to this story. How can you be thankful for that?

Just as life can bring the good, life brings hardship: like when the diagnosis is not good, rain falls on the family reunion, and the "Cinderella" story doesn't play out with "happily ever after." How can we be thankful in this? I don't think Paul meant to say that we rejoice in disappointment and hardship; what he meant was that despite the hardship and pain, in the bigger picture we find that God still loves us and cares about us. That God holds the future and we can find redemption in Jesus, whereby the momentary set-backs are seen against the backdrop of eternity. We give thanks, not for the bad, but for the larger good that we find in Jesus. Paul said, "...give thanks...in Christ Jesus."

During this month where we come together to be thankful for our many blessings, let's also focus on the larger picture we have in Christ and find a grateful heart, not only November 23, but each day throughout the year.

Through The Years - St. Paul's United Methodist Church

Tiffin, Ohio is the county seat of Seneca County. It is located about 55 miles southeast of Toledo. It is the home of both Heidelberg and Tiffin Universities. Tiffin is also the home of St. Paul's United Methodist Church which enjoys a unique distinction in history.

The congregation began in 1823 and held services in the Hedges building. The building had three levels, each serving a different purpose. The basement was a jail, the first floor was a store, and the second floor was used as a court room during the week and for church services on Sunday. Their first regular preacher was hired in 1824 which is the date the church considers its founding. The church built its own building in 1828. A second building was dedicated in 1849.

The church continued to grow and a third building was needed and ground was broken for it in 1873. On February 21, 1875 four rooms on the first floor were dedicated. The second floor, however, was not completed until 1883, due to the economic depression that made funding difficult. This floor would house the sanctuary of the church. During that same year, plans were underway to erect the Edison Electric Illuminating Company in Tiffin. An enterprising contractor decided to wire the church building's second floor for electric lights, which made St. Paul's the first public building in the world wired for electricity while under construction. Thomas Edison gave the church an ornate brass electric light chandelier. This chandelier is still in use today. The completed building was dedicated on January 6, 1884.

St. Paul's UMC was named an Historic Site by the United Methodist Church in 1985. In 2001, it received an Ohio Historical Marker. St. Paul's is also on the National Register of Historic Places. Quite a distinction for a Methodist church located in Ohio!
